

Great Britain's War Plane Production System Spreads To Ireland

$750,000 TO EXPAND PLANT AT BELFAST

Defence, Not Aggression, Aim of British Air Move, Says Wood

BELFAST, Aug. 16.—Great Britain's war plane production will be stepped up by a new appropriation of £150,000 ($750,000) to enlarge the Belfast aircraft factory, Air Secretary Sir Kingsley Wood announced Monday.

The air secretary arrived by plane from London airport and was received by Lord Londonderry, recently appointed chief commissioner of the civil air guard.

TO PRESERVE PEACE

"I arrive in Northern Ireland as secretary for air time when we are urgently engaged in a great expansion of our air defence," Sir Kingsley said. "Our object is peace. We are determined to use our air defence as a preventive of rights and liberties and we equally intend that they shall never be used for the purpose of aggression, nor how they will be great and dominating factor in preserving the peace of the world."

IRELAND BENEFITS

The Air Secretary explained the air ministry's expansion in Belfast would be for the factory operated by Short and Harland. A new metal and machine shop is to be built adjacent to the factory, he said.

Sir Kingsley concluded: "The air expansion scheme has greatly increased the amount of jobs, plans purchases and I hope the contractors will continue to take advantage of that feature."

By Lloyd Leibras Associated Press Staff Writer

SHANGHAI, Aug. 16.—General Chiang Kai-shek was reported today to have massed 1,000,000 Chinese troops around his "provisional capital" within which the Japanese have advanced slowly since occupying Peking on July 28.

The outer fringes of these defenses were challenged today by Japanese units making their way to the Yangtze River.

Because the defenses were so close to the Yangtze, the Japanese were forced to follow the Yangtze south bank and against the Japanese, the low railway line, 10 divisions placed between the Nanchang railway and the Canton railway were reinforced by Cantonese troops.

These troops were reinforced by a mobile army of 120,000 Chinese is moving into the south bank sector.

Civilization Will Slip 400 Years If Japs Conquer China

On Domination of Oriental Markets Depends Mellow Western Life of Today, Will Durant Says

By HENRY WOOD

British United Press: Exclusive To The Bulletin

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—If Japan succeeds in conquering China and capturing the rich oriental markets, European civilization will slip back to the simplicity of 400 years, Will Durant, author and philosopher, told a local audience.

Durant said that it was the domination of these Oriental trade markets by Europe that provided the latter with the riches to build up the mellow western civilization of today. He said that it is only by retaining this domination that Europe can continue to exist on its present basis, and the only way that she can continue this domination is through resolution of present funds. Europe, Durant insisted, must unite in a common front against the "threatening" Far East.

"I believe European civilization is worth preserving," Durant said. "But the only way to do this is for the 'have' nations to make concessions to the 'have nots.' I for one, am glad to see that this is being done in the policy of Neville Chamberlain towards Italy and Germany."

RECOGNIZE QUEST

Durant, however, believed the world's democracies should recognize the conquest of Ethiopia. "It is best to sacrifice a little morality," he said, "to save the whole structure."

The philosopher said he would "even support the division of Abyssinia into two parts," saying that although he "would hate to see this brave little nation destroyed, he is endangering the peace of Europe."

COMMON FRONT

With a united Europe, Durant said, he would favor the United States joining in a common front against the "threatening" Far East.

"But if Japan deigned to yield to the demands of Europe," he continued, "Europe should fight Japan as a united continent. However, if United States has nothing to gain by such a war."

Durant said he believed the so-called clash between democracy and dictatorship would have nothing to do with the next war. He believed, however, that democracy could be the first casualty of the next war, "because the only agency for swift enough to cope with such an eventuality will be the streamlined dictatorship."

TIMBER TRADE PARTY ON WAY TO DOMINION

Will Make First Hand Survey Of Timber Industry In B.C.

By RICHARD MCILLAN

British United Press, Exclusive Cable

LONDON, Aug. 16.—Believed to be the largest trade delegation ever to leave the British Isles for Canada, the British Timber Trade party is now en route to the Dominion on the Empress of Australia. The party is travelling as the guests of the government of British Columbia in order to make a first hand investigation of the timber industry in that province and to turn back information of practical advantage for future dealings.

General opinion throughout the timber trade in Great Britain is that the visit will certainly improve trade relations between the two countries and this is the feeling which animates members of the party.

TETSAI INTERVIEWED

Interviewed by the British United Press, the party leader, Mr. J. P. Tettsai, former president of the Timber Trade Federation of Great Britain, expressed his own sentiments and those of the party.

"This visit is long overdue," he said. "We know too much about the timber trade in Canada, but we know too little about the timber trade in Canada. We know too much about the timber trade in Canada, but we know too little about the timber trade in Canada."

At the time of his death, Mr. Tettsai was treasurer of Burns and Company, London.

Islay Nuptials Hold Interest Of Many Here

Home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Fyfe in Islay was the setting for a pretty mid-summer wedding of interest to many friends in social and in University circles in Edmonton one day recently when their daughter, Joan Thora Fyfe, became the bride of Mr. Charles Robertson, youngest son of Mrs. George Robertson and the late Mr. Robertson of Islay.

ATTENDED U. OF A.

The bride is well known in Edmonton, having attended Llanarth-y-Nant School for Girls and later the University of Alberta. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta Fraternity.

Rev. H. McPherson performed the marriage ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the slender and pretty bride wore a royal figure in her gown of white lace over satin, which, fashioned in the princess mode fell into a court train at the back. Her chapel veil of softest net fell about her shoulders to a tiny Juliet knot on her head and she carried in her arms a bouquet of white gladiolus blossoms, blue forget-me-nots and lilacs-the-valley.

FROM EDMONTON

Bridemaid, Miss Grace Adamson of Edmonton, was dressed in a frock of dusty pink chiffon, and wore a band of forget-me-nots and lilacs-of-the-valley in her hair.

Mr. Henry Robertson, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Music for the ceremony was provided by Mrs. Darwin Watson, and during the signing of the register, Mr. Darwin Houston sang appropriately.

Mrs. John T. Fyfe, mother of the bride, was gowned for the occasion in a gown of black lace and green velvet. Her carriage was of red velvet.

George Robertson, mother of the bridegroom, chose a smart frock of grey and white figured cord, with carriage of pink roses.

TO RESIDE IN ISLAY

Leaving later in the evening on their wedding trip, the bride and groom smartly frocked in duck blue, with waist of navy. Her accessories were black veils.

Following their wedding trip they will take up residence near Islay.

Fall Chic Is In The Bag --- But Carry A Roomy One

Enormous is the word which most describes the new handbags that appear to be in vogue with their fall clothes. Record Climb Is Made By U.S. Women

JASPER, Aug. 16.—Adding their own share to the record, U.S. women made a record climb by women in the Canadian Rockies this year.

Miss Christine Red, Boston, Mass., and Miss Elizabeth Knowlton of Chicago, made a record climb to the summit of Mt. Robson—a distance of 13,000 feet higher—by rope-making the first successful attempt by women climbers since 1912.

In spite of adverse weather conditions, they reached the summit after a climb of 12 hours and 15 minutes on top, the clouds broke to give them an unbroken view of the magnificent panorama of mountains.

Intense cold, however, impeded their climb in some extent, but removed the danger of melting ice and snow.

Led by Fritz Weisner of New England, the expedition consisted of Denver, Colorado, the party consisted of the two women, Dr. Snow of Chicago and Mr. Lawrence Logan also of New York City.

They started from their camp, 15,000 feet from their climb, and on their return to Jasper, Mr. Red left for his home in Boston.

DISSEMINATING the excitement that will shortly envelop Edmonton as another university term opens, and as another group of eager-eyed students are preparing for the first day of lectures, the fashion news for the college-bound that comes from Chicago.

"Sweaters and skirts make the grade for class-room and campus wear," say the many fashion-wise "college bureaus" that have been instituted in many departmental stores in the east.

Jump dresses come next—they are worn with a variety of blouses varying from plain, flannel shirt waists to tailored silk creations.

Three-piece suits, always popular, or a two-piece suit with broad or plain top coat, are in the "A" class, and short-sleeved frocks come in for honorable mention in clothes lists.

For lounging, studying or strolling around residence corridors there are smart new outfit—sacks of flannel, flannel, and short-sleeved frocks.

You can't go wrong, fashionists say, if you keep your wardrobe simple but effective, simple but correct.

Anne Forster Chooses Pink Bridal Gown

Softest pink sheer fashioned the lovely summer gown worn by Anne Forster, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Forster of Vancouver, when at a simply arranged ceremony in the church of Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church one day recently, she became the bride of John Allen Gray of St. Albert.

Her accessories, white gloves and slippers, were of pink also, and her flowers were a bouquet of sweethearts and sweet pea blossoms.

Miss Mabel Gray, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid and was frocked for the occasion in a gown of turquoise blue velvet with white accessories. Her flowers were a bouquet of sweethearts and sweet pea blossoms.

Mr. Arthur Falk, of Calgary, uncle of the bride, was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was arranged at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Gray in St. Albert.

Mr. and Mrs. John Allen Gray are spending a month's honeymoon at the Pacific coast.

Little Season Events Demand Dinner Gowns

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Soon after she puts aside her party frocks and gowns in favor of a trim black street dress, the woman who buys a simple, beautifully cut dinner gown for the semi-formal events of the social season should not forget to buy a formal gown later on, of course, but right now her main need is for something to wear to concerts and dances and dinners when she wants to dress but not arrive.

More than likely, she'll pick a black silk crepe model which will be the background for her formal wardrobe for months to come.

It probably will have short sleeves, fullness in the front and in the centre back of the skirt, and be of a kind of simple, adequate make-up of formal gowns later on, of course, but right now her main need is for something to wear to concerts and dances and dinners when she wants to dress but not arrive.

Wednesday,

DOROTHY DIX Says:

DEAR MISS DIX: When my husband, to whom I have been married for 20 happy years, died I thought that I was done with all thoughts of love and marriage and that I would spend the balance of my life being faithful to his memory, but a dear friend, whom I have known ever since my high school days has asked me to be his wife. I feel that I have for him is like a sister's love for her brother. Great affection and friendship, respect and admiration, but it has nothing of the passion that I felt for my husband. I have told my friend just how I feel and he says that he will be perfectly satisfied with imperfect love. For myself I might refuse this offer of marriage, but I am sure that I can give my children the love of their father which they have never had. I have never had any of the advantages that their father might have given them had he lived. This man is both able and willing to provide for the children. He is a good man and they love him dearly, thus there would be no stepfather problem. It is only the fear of appearing inconstant to my husband that makes me wonder whether I should remarry. D. K.

Answer: By all means take the good that the gods have provided for you and thank heaven for the luck that has fallen upon you and your children.

Don't let your silly, sentimental thought about being faithful to your husband's memory keep you from marrying this good man. Many women make that mistake. They have some sort of an idea that they prove their devotion to their dead husbands by spending the balance of their lives mourning over them and watering their graves with their tears.

I have known widows who were mourning for 30 and 40 years, who never went anywhere except to church, and who cut themselves off from the joy and sunshine of life. I thought they thought that by doing so they were adding to the happiness of their loved ones, but the fact is that they are only adding to their own misery. It is better to live and let the living know that you are still here than to be a ghost haunting the memory of the dead.

If it were that you have passed on to the other world, what is happening in this, your husband will be glad to know that you have a strong man to protect you and the children and to provide you with comfort instead of you being forced to exist meagerly and toil and strive to keep the wolf from the door.

I heartily advocate the remarriage of young widows. Death has written "finis" to one chapter of their lives. That is ended, but there is no reason why they should not begin another one that may bring them even greater happiness than the first, since at any rate they will not leave the pages of their lives so blank as they will if they live alone. For being married suits a woman for single-mindedness.

Minute Make-Ups

ROBERT E. LEE DID NOT FAVOR SECESSION OF THE SOUTHERN STATES

Now that your Summer tan has reached its peak, try the effect of the latest make-up. It is a honey-colored glow of your delicately tanned skin to perfection. And how it harmonizes with a brown or rust costume! Incidentally, use a tannish rouge with it.

Colonel Robert E. Lee, of Civil War fame in the United States, actually did not favor the secession of the Southern States, and, in fact, was offered the command of the Union forces at the outbreak of the Civil War. He declined the offer, and was finally routed by General Grant at Appomattox April 9, 1865, and later, president of Washington and Lee University.

Of course, nothing would please me so much as a list of items that aren't exactly glamorous but which they'll have to buy out of their small allowances. This includes, for example, several tubes of toothpaste, three or four toothbrushes, a tube of tooth powder, dental floss and several cakes of soap.

manicure kit, completely equipped with emery boards, nail scissors, orange sticks, cotton and cuticle cream as well as polish, nail oil and polish remover, makes a perfect present. And a kit of cosmetic makeup, including two shades of powder, mascara, eye-shadow and a lipstick, is something else any one would be inclined to get.

Consider, too, a bath powder mix. It has a large quantity of bath powder in the palm between the two layers of Turkish toweling and the powder acts through the towel, the mix is patting against the body. Easy to pack and carry around the dormitory from her room in the bath, it doesn't let powder spill on the same shade as the lipstick.

If you aren't sure of her coloring or preferences, there's a new line of jewelry made by a well-known jeweler, made of pearls and combs, the soiled lipstick is packed in a box with three small samples—two the same shade as the lipstick and the other two in different tones. There was very little to the play. West opened the seven of hearts and East, who was dummy's king, held the trick. Five rounds of spades put East into disconcerting position. He let go one diamond and one club, but then had to relinquish two hearts. Declarer's play was a card. East ducked, West won, and played another heart. East, returned the jack, and was able to catch the nine spot when he took the lead with the club king. But, of course, declarer easily made nine tricks.

It would have done West no good to shift to diamonds. That line of defense would have built a defensive diamond trick at the expense of a heart trick. Four spades could not have been made against the proper defense.

Neither side vulnerable.

A Campus Must

A one-third section medium boned, about 10 seedless white grapes, powdered sugar, 1-3 lemons in 2 sections, green cherries. Use a highly polished glass dessert plate. Place the cherries around the edge on bed of grape leaves. Roll seedless grapes in powdered sugar, then place in center of mound. Garnish with lemon slices. Serve with fork and spoon.

CANTALOUPE GARDEN

One-half cantaloupe, 1 navel orange, 1 cup large blackberries, light French dressing, cornmeal. Cut and peel cantaloupe. Peel orange and cut into fine carnation slices. Clean blackberries on salad plate, arrange chilled romaine leaves around half of plate. Arrange the orange carnation and blackberry half of plate. Place half cantaloupe in center and fill with the blackberries.

Pass a light French dressing made of olive oil, lemon and lime juice and very little salt. Here's another version of hot weather refreshment using some of the milk of Paradise.

LEMON CREAM FRAPPE

Two eggs, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup light cream, 2 cups milk, 1 cup lemon juice, 3 drops almond extract, 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel.

Beat eggs until medium colored. Gradually beat in sugar until mixture has custard-like consistency. Add lemon juice and almond extract. 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel. Freeze in ice cream freezer until stiff, or use automatic refrigerator.

Freeze at lowest temperature until stiff. Remove to bowl and beat until light and creamy. Return to ice cream freezer. Finish freezing. This was served in an all glass bowl. Hold at middle control for serving.

Kit of Beauty Items Handy Gift for Coeds

By ALICIA HART

A leekproof compact—small enough to carry in the pocket of a jacket or skirt—colours and tint water which is like better than perfume for daytime, a proud jar of her favorite cleansing cream, a very large jar of night cream, a lipstick with a tint that won't come off easily—these are just a few of the beauty preparations that any college girl would like to receive as a gift.

Of course, nothing would please me so much as a list of items that aren't exactly glamorous but which they'll have to buy out of their small allowances. DESIGN No. 605—GEESE GIVING APPLIQUE QUILT

Dear Readers: Every time we open a letter asking for a DUCK or GOOSE quilt we think of the "jingle," "Gee, gee, geese, where do you want to go?" Design anything but a goose on the quilt, and just for good measure we have given you two geese—one to keep the other cool. They have become instant favorites, and you will find them fun to have and to make.

Answer: Certainly have a definite understanding about the matter of expenses before your start on the trip. I would like to see plans of the trip with your friend, and my share of the cost of running the automobile. The father, of course, will do the registering at hotels for every one and settle for the meals, tip and night's lodgings. Much the simpler plan is to divide the total amount of the trip, and decide which she does like. If the seal isn't broken, any share will exchange the lipstick.

For Fruitful Dessert Try Melons And Grapes

By MRS. GAYNOR DADD

A bowl's worth of estate dinner "For he on bonny head half fed" is a simple and delicious. Milk comes in bottles. Melons arrive in refrigerated express cars. But the taste can be paradise in no weather.

HONEYDEW DESSERT

One-third section medium boned, about 10 seedless white grapes, powdered sugar, 1-3 lemons in 2 sections, green cherries. Use a highly polished glass dessert plate. Place the cherries around the edge on bed of grape leaves. Roll seedless grapes in powdered sugar, then place in center of mound. Garnish with lemon slices. Serve with fork and spoon.

CANTALOUPE GARDEN

One-half cantaloupe, 1 navel orange, 1 cup large blackberries, light French dressing, cornmeal. Cut and peel cantaloupe. Peel orange and cut into fine carnation slices. Clean blackberries on salad plate, arrange chilled romaine leaves around half of plate. Arrange the orange carnation and blackberry half of plate. Place half cantaloupe in center and fill with the blackberries.

Pass a light French dressing made of olive oil, lemon and lime juice and very little salt. Here's another version of hot weather refreshment using some of the milk of Paradise.

LEMON CREAM FRAPPE

Two eggs, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup light cream, 2 cups milk, 1 cup lemon juice, 3 drops almond extract, 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel.

Beat eggs until medium colored. Gradually beat in sugar until mixture has custard-like consistency. Add lemon juice and almond extract. 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel. Freeze in ice cream freezer until stiff, or use automatic refrigerator.

Kit of Beauty Items Handy Gift for Coeds

By ALICIA HART

A leekproof compact—small enough to carry in the pocket of a jacket or skirt—colours and tint water which is like better than perfume for daytime, a proud jar of her favorite cleansing cream, a very large jar of night cream, a lipstick with a tint that won't come off easily—these are just a few of the beauty preparations that any college girl would like to receive as a gift.

Of course, nothing would please me so much as a list of items that aren't exactly glamorous but which they'll have to buy out of their small allowances. This includes, for example, several tubes of toothpaste, three or four toothbrushes, a tube of tooth powder, dental floss and several cakes of soap.

manicure kit, completely equipped with emery boards, nail scissors, orange sticks, cotton and cuticle cream as well as polish, nail oil and polish remover, makes a perfect present. And a kit of cosmetic makeup, including two shades of powder, mascara, eye-shadow and a lipstick, is something else any one would be inclined to get.

Consider, too, a bath powder mix. It has a large quantity of bath powder in the palm between the two layers of Turkish toweling and the powder acts through the towel, the mix is patting against the body. Easy to pack and carry around the dormitory from her room in the bath, it doesn't let powder spill on the same shade as the lipstick.

If you aren't sure of her coloring or preferences, there's a new line of jewelry made by a well-known jeweler, made of pearls and combs, the soiled lipstick is packed in a box with three small samples—two the same shade as the lipstick and the other two in different tones. Before breaking the seal, the recipient can try sample number one.

Holla, Cadets!

I suppose that you have all heard about the model airplane contest being sponsored by the Edmonton Lions Club which will be held at the airport on September 24.

I suppose that you have all either got your plane building sets already or have ordered them. If you haven't, then you had better hop right to it, because one of the most important things in model airplane building is carefulness and exactness. And if you expect to have a really good model, you must give yourself lots of time to work on it and then to experiment with it to learn how to fly it to the best result.

Every day, until September 24, this space in The Bulletin will carry a column which will give you hints on how to make a better plane.

INTERVIEW PILOTS

I am going to interview the pilots and air engineers who fly the planes into the north and who rebuild them here in Edmonton, and tell you in this column the things they have to say about model building and flying. Besides, I am going to get W. R. "Wop" Gray, W. Lagan Russell and Grant McCondonald, who will give you the importance of model building as a training for future pilots, air engineers and airplane designers.

Then, too, if you run into difficulties, I want you cadets who have any good suggestions to send them in and I'll put them in this column so that the others can read about them.

Remember that the contest is open to all cadets and that there will be competition clauses for both boys and girls so that everyone will have an equal chance to get a valuable prize.

For information regarding the contest, write to Phil Davis at "The Bulletin" and remember, Cadets—welcome, don't hesitate!

World-Wide News Pictures By The Edmonton Bulletin Cameramen

Junks War Targets

A few hours before this photo was taken, the Chinese junkman and his brother were peacefully pursuing their way down the winding Han river, not far from Hankow, China. Suddenly a Japanese bombing squadron sailed overhead and rained explosives on the defenseless junk. First believing—according to an army communiqué—that they carried arms and ammunition. The brother now lies seriously wounded in the bottom of the sampan, bomb fragments in his chest, while his civilian brother frantically seeks the safety of the shore. And the Japanese army is no nearer Hankow.

In Love

"But ah, my friends, time is there to time as Vienna, and as soon as I get out of here, I'll make my way back to her." With those soft-spoken words, Adolph Wilhelm Withrow, above, told of his romance with a young woman to whom he refers as his Janice. She is, he proudly maintained, 29-year-old Princess Yasmina Genevieve of Peshawar, India. Withrow explained now, with the first flash of publicity attending announcement of their engagement, that he was arrested on the 43rd day of his celebration. Withrow is at the County Prison Farm, near Los Angeles, where he yet has three months to serve.

Wins Bet

With half a $300,000 plantation, plus $2,500 in side bets, at stake, J. Smith Perbeck of Chicago watches his ball after a drive in the solo golf marathon he played at a Windy City course. Perbeck, but his business partner, a 59 per cent interest in their firm that he could play eight rounds a day in succession, each of 18 holes, without scoring less than 10 on any round. He completed the 144 holes in a little over 15 hours and collected.

Three Generations

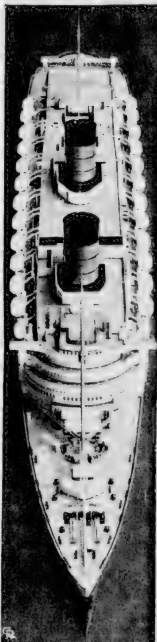

Prince Bernhard, proud father and amateur photographer, took this picture of little Princess Wilhelmina Amgard of the Netherlands. Queen Wilhelmina. The baby's mother, Princess Juliana, smiles and Prince Bernhard's mother, Princess Amgard, beams approvingly.

How the Quints Have Changed!

The passing years see many changes in the famous Dionne quintuplets and their charm continues to advance rather than go back. From the humble cottage where they were born they now occupy their own home but it will not be long until they will share a new residence with their father and mother. Dr. Roy Allen Inhofe will continue to be their medical adviser. Recent slight illnesses of the Quints have only added to the interest in this famous Sister Five, who appear to the cameramen as the perfect symbol of health. They've become individualists in the passing of the years. They are talkative—sometimes naughtily like other kiddies—but they're always found charming.

Like This

This is what the new giant liner, "Queen Elizabeth", will look like to a lowlyling aboard, after its completion on the Clyde. That striking contrast came a month from the finished-off model for the £10,000,000, oceanic, new under construction at Clydebank.

Grizzly's City Terrorism Halts

For six hours this 350-pound grizzly bear, escaping from the Pittsburgh Zoo after breaking inch-thick iron bars to win its freedom, terrorized an entire section of that city. Four bullets from the rifle of Arnold J. Scheumann, zoo superintendent, finally dropped the bear as it charged toward him when cornered in a culvert. A posse of 100 men, including police and firemen, armed with rifles and shotguns, had been formed to bring it down. Scheumann and a police officer are shown examining the grizzly after its death.

Built for a British steamship line, the vessel shown above at the recent launching is equipped with two V-shaped Schottel propellers and a rudder. The special propellers consist of six blades, three of which are infinitely variable pitch and all steering is done with their aid, giving the ship exceptional maneuverability. The propellers may be seen at the stern of the ship.

BASEBALL PREPARES FOR CANADIAN OPEN

Strong Invaders Headed By Cooper

TORONTO, Aug. 16.—A field of 149 professionals and amateurs from Canada, the United States, Bermuda, South Africa and Australia was paired off for Thursday's opening 18-hole round of the Canadian golf championship at the Mississauga Golf and Country Club.

Harry Cooper, defending champion from Chicago, headed one of the strongest invading golf forces that has sought the Canadian title. Since the Great War no domestic player has won the championship.

But Cooper has more to contend with than his fellow-pros of the American "tournament" circuit. These include Sam Snee and White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.; Jimmy Thomson of Shawanaga, Ont.; Dave, Pa.; Victor Ghezi of Dallas, 2-2; Jimmy Smith of Chicago; Jimmy Hines of Great Neck, N.Y.; and Lawson Little of San Francisco.

AFRICA AC ENTERED
South Africa's open champion, Sid Brews, will attempt to take the overseas record for the first time. Brews has been campaigning for two years in Great Britain with signal success. A Briton, Paul Allan, closed the campaign by winning the title with this continent in 1931. He tied with Walter Hagen after 72 holes and was defeated in a playoff.

The pairings for Thursday list 21 United States players, nine from Bermuda and one each from South Africa and Australia. The Australian is M. J. Ryan of Melbourne, an amateur.

Hagen, a great gallery favorite here, Paul Runyan of White Plains, N.Y., United States South Africa champion; Ray Mangrum of Oakland, Pa., and Ted Turner of Clemenston, N.C., are others in the American brigade.

SANDY TOP CANUCKS

Sandy Samwell of London, Ont., heads the amateur entry but his conqueror last month in the Canadian amateur final, Ted Adams of Columbia, Mo., passed up the event. Ted Adams, who has won the Canadian professional championship from Ottawa, Stanley Porter, Bobby Adams, and Ontario open champion, Dick Burdick of Toronto, Quebec, and Ontario open champion, Willie Lamb of Toronto.

After 18-hole round Thursday and Friday, the field will be reduced to the 60 best players and will play Saturday's 36-hole final.

Time Out — By Chet Smith

He's been going since Decoration Day—his brakes are shot!

Heavy Baseball Schedule Opens Tonight for Seniors

A HEAVY Senior baseball schedule, revamped owing to postponed games, will open tonight at Renfrew Park as Arrow Busses meet with Army and Navy Cardinals, starting at 6:15 p.m. Four games are scheduled for this week, with the Columbus Club playing Cards on Wednesday, Belmonts vs. Arrows on Thursday and the Cardinals and Arrows back in action again Saturday.

The revised schedule was made last night at a meeting of the league. The schedule will close providing no postponements are necessary on Thursday, August 25.

Tonight's game will be a tough one for the Arrows. They simply must win in order to keep well in front of the Belmonts. The Arrows will be given job.

The Cardinals too, will come out in full force. The Cardinal manager, Ralph Morgan, will be likely likely. But if they don't lose the night, then Letty Fowler will be given job.

The revised schedule is as follows: Tuesday, Aug. 16—Arrows vs. Cards; Wednesday, Aug. 17—Arrows vs. Cards; Thursday, Aug. 18—Belmonts vs. Arrows; Friday, Aug. 19—Columbus vs. Cards; Saturday, Aug. 20—Columbus vs. Cards; Sunday, Aug. 21—Columbus vs. Cards; Monday, Aug. 22—Columbus vs. Cards; Tuesday, Aug. 23—Columbus vs. Cards; Wednesday, Aug. 24—Columbus vs. Cards; Thursday, Aug. 25—Arrows vs. Columbus.

Enforcement Of Speed Limit Law Cuts Accidents
VANCOUVER, Aug. 16.—The new British Columbia 30-mile an hour speed limit and rigid enforcement of regulations have reduced Vancouver traffic fatalities by more than a half since the first seven months of this year, according to a report by A.D. Fred Croun.

In the first seven months of 1937 there were 30 traffic deaths and 1766 accidents. This year there were only 19 deaths and 1285 accidents, according to the report.

REES APPOINTED

Sell-Out Looms For Armstrong Ambers Battle

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The public suddenly has realized that Henry Armstrong and Lou Ambers will meet in a fight for the lightweight title in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night, and the result is a gratifying boom in box office business.

All day yesterday fans stood in line outside the box office at the Hippodrome, where the 20th Century-Fox theatre is located, to get tickets for the fight.

A week ago when the fight was set for the Polo Grounds, it looked as Mike's biggest failure. But now the best guess is that the fans have suddenly become interested in watching Ambers, a cold, crafty fighter who has won his title against St. Louis Negro, battle with the greatest light fighter of a decade.

HENRY FAVORITE
The odds favor Henry by as much as 3 to 1 to beat Lou. As well as this, Henry is a much better weight and well-known fighter. Nevertheless the man in the street is sure that Lou will make a fight of it.

Thomas Is Confident of Win Over Davis on Friday
WRESTLING fans here can at last believe there is such a thing as justice. In challenging the winner of last week's main event, Dandy "Dizzy" Davis drew Soldier Thomas as opposition this week at the Memorial Hall and in drawing Thomas the Dizzy one drew the one man who wrestles him in the ring.

Thomas has seen Davis wrestle several times abroad and in the United States. He is the only one that understands the peculiar style of the Dandy and feels confident sure he can whip the great Canadian of the ring. (Casualty meaning in wrestling, comes something greater than just a lover).

In a statement, the press, Thomas credits himself with developing the only counter for Dandy's back breaker, the hold with which Davis has repeatedly beaten his victims.

So earnestly did Thomas state his confidence that he could triumph, his statement was so heartily felt, for wrestling fans could get no greater enjoyment than to see Davis beaten.

Davis admitted the Soldier was a class act, but he also stated he has beaten the same class of wrestlers as Thomas, such as Lord Laurence, Bob Grady and has a variety of holds at his command. He doesn't seem to think the Soldier is any exception to the rule.

Soccer Practice
The Civic football team will hold practice games on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. Players will meet at the Leland Hotel at 8:30 p.m. The games are in preparation for the first round of the Alberta football championship. The first game will be played in Calgary this Friday with the second contest taking place in Edmonton on September 3. The Edmonton game will be played at the Clarke Stadium.

Manager
DETROIT, Aug. 16.—Appointment of John Zeller as general manager of Detroit Tigers was announced Monday by Walter P. Reuther, Sr., president and owner.

Both men are post graduates in the field of crumplebum. Zeller is expected to be a whirlwind manager. Two other crumplebums will round out this stellar card with the first bout opening at 9 p.m. at the Memorial Hall.

Canadian Heroine

who was seriously hurt along with her husband while examining dynamite.

Eyewitness Tells How Dodge Died

LITTLE CURRENT, Ont., Aug. 16.—Frank Valiquette, camp helper at Daniel Dodge's summer camp at nearby Kawagong, told here last night how his 21-year-old employer, seriously injured in an explosion of dynamite, was drowned in Georgian Bay as he was being taken to hospital in a speedboat.

"We were sitting around in the garage at the summer cottage at Maple Point, Kawagong, and Dodge picked up a piece of dynamite," said Valiquette. "While Dodge was holding the dynamite in his hand, it exploded."

"It shattered his arm and struck the side of his face and head. Mrs. Dodge was hit in the leg. Bryant was badly hurt. I was struck on the side."

"We got the speedboat out and put Dodge in it and started for Little Current. Mrs. Dodge drove the boat. She deserves a medal for credit for her courage as she was suffering considerably and the boat was hard to drive in the heavy seas."

"I was handling Dan's arm and he was giving me instructions about stopping the boat. He bled, about halfway over Mrs. Dodge got faint and asked for somebody to help her off. I went up to the front of the boat and she moved to the back. We went on a couple of miles and I heard a scream from the back of the boat."

"I turned around and saw Dodge falling into the water. There was no chance to pick him up. After he jumped in, we came on to Little Current."

"We could do nothing. It was a bad day. That Mrs. Dodge, she is a same one."

BELGIANS TO DEMONSTRATE OWN DEFENCE

Forty Thousand Soldiers to Muster On German Frontier

BRUSSELS, Aug. 16.—Forty thousand Belgian soldiers were mustered along the German frontier Monday night for maneuvers.

The Belgian war games, along with the Netherlands and German borders, begin today and continue Tuesday.

BEST EVER HELD
While not as extensive as those in Germany with the calling out of reserves, the maneuvers will be the most spectacular ever held in Belgium.

The Belgian war games, along with the Netherlands and German borders, begin today and continue Tuesday.

BELGIUM'S peace-time soldiers, close-knit in a highly mobile army, during the week of war games will defend the same route over which the Kaiser's armies marched in this narrow strip between Holland and Luxembourg.

The little kingdom believes it has learned a lot since the Great War, and the war games are a further effort to sharpen its defense.

Outwardly there is no appearance of the military training of the giant German maneuvers.

DEFENSE IS AIM
The whole show will be pitched on the army's new slogan, "Defend our territory right at the border."

It is not that the Belgians are not to be taken by surprise, but that they are to be taken by surprise.

Describing Mr. Chamberlain as "one of Britain's greatest prime ministers," Lord Greenwood credited him with raising European peace and ending the "crisis in Europe."

TORONTO, Aug. 16.—The University of Toronto will enter an "honorary" degree of Doctor of Laws on Monday.

Right Hon. Viscount Greenwood, who served for many years as a member of the British House of Commons, at a special convocation in London.

The award of the degree, which was made two years ago to give the former Hamar Greenwood the degree.
